

Station 19 – Finance Authority

In the same year (1891), the royal Bavarian revenue office was built beside the district court. The gable is also decorated with the impressive Bavarian national coat of arms, based on the model of the Bavarian buildings in Munich built revenue office. Nothing essential has changed until today. The royal Bavarian revenue office is our finance authority today.